First Communion Welcome—There are many guests with us this weekend as grandparents, godparents, and other extended family members and friends gather with our first communicants to celebrate their reception of Holy Communion. This is a significant event in their lives and is recognized as such by the many guests who have joined them for the celebration. On behalf of St. Joseph Parish, I offer you a warm welcome and am glad you could join us.

Why First Holy Communion During the Weekend Masses?—I received my First Holy Communion in the parish church during Mass, but my brother received communion for the first time during a Mass celebrated at our home. The latter was an interesting concept which recognized the family as the domestic church, and the “family church” as the building block of the Church and society. As the family goes, so does society.

So, why don't we celebrate First Holy Communion at home? The number of priests we have today wouldn't support the practice, but more importantly, First Holy Communion at the parish Masses is the better way to do so. The sacraments were given by Christ to the Church, and hence, they come from the Church through him. All sacraments are communal celebrations, and the community has a role in them. When we celebrate First Holy Communion during the weekend at the usual time the whole community gathers, it appropriately emphasizes and expresses that we are all part of the one Body of Christ and have a role to play in the lives of the first communicants through our prayer, support and example. When a member of our Church approaches the altar to receive communion for the first time, we share in the joy of the moment as Christ the Good Shepherd gathers one of his own to receive his life-giving Body and Blood. Sharing in that moment with the first communicants, their families and friends, is one of the best expressions of the life, unity and vitality of our parish community. We are all one in Christ.

Book Drive

Clean out your bookshelves for the benefit of those with little access to quality reading materials! Please drop off your new or gently used books (for adults and/or children) in the boxes at the church entrances by Tuesday,

May 9. The following week, The Alt family will deliver the books to Prayer Lodge, a Catholic retreat and education center in Montana. From there, the books will be made available to the Northern Cheyenne and Crow Native Americans through Free Little Libraries and other programs. If you have questions, contact Theresa Alt at 319-447-1132 or alt.theresa@yahoo.com.

First Communions

We will celebrate First Holy Communion again next weekend. Please pray for our first communicants as they receive Our Lord's Body and Blood for the first time. May they remain close to the Mass and the Holy Eucharist all the days of their lives! The First Communion will be Saturday, May 6th during the 4:30 PM Mass and Sunday, May 7th during the 10:30 AM Mass.

Plan Ahead for Your Baby's Baptism

Have you recently had a child? Are you expecting a child? Congratulations! We welcome children into our Christian community through the waters of Baptism. To prepare for this celebration, we ask all parents who would like to have their children baptized to attend baptism class. The next class is Saturday, May 13, from 9 to 11 a.m., in the parish office. Please call Deacon Dennis Ternes at the parish office at 377-4869 for more information or to register.

New Associate Pastor
